DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of applicants' amendments and remarks submitted August 14, 2007 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2, and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Meyers (US 5,420,161, IDS).

3. Meyers teaches a method of inducing weight loss comprising administering to an warm blooded animals effective amounts of (+) cis- bisdehydrodoisynolic acid see particularly claims 7 250 µg/kg/day and 2.5mg/kg/day are shown as effective amounts (see column 5, lines 10-23). It is noted that Meyers teaches a genus comprising six compounds for treating either male of female. The genus so such small that one of ordinary skill in the art would have at once envisaged the claimed invention, i.e., using (+) cis- bisdehydrodoisynolic acid for treatment of male animals. See MPEP § § 2131.02. As to the limitation “said repression of weight gain or reduction in weight being independent of food intake”, note the instant claims are directed to effecting a biochemical pathway with an old and well known compounds. The argument that such claims are not directed to the old and well known ultimate utility (producing weight loss) for the compounds, e.g., (+)-Z-bisdehydrodoisynolic acid, are not probative. It is well settled patent law that mode of action elucidation does not impart patentable moment to otherwise old and obvious subject matter. Applicant's attention is directed to In re Swinehart, (169 USPQ 226 at 229) where the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals stated "is elementary that the mere recitation of a newly discovered function or property, inherently possessed by thing in the prior art, does not cause a claim drawn to those things to distinguish over the prior art." In the instant invention, the claims are directed to the ultimate utility set forth in the prior art, albeit distanced by various biological functions. The ultimate utility for the claimed compounds is old and well known rendering the claimed subject matter anticipated.

Response to the Arguments

Applicants' amendments and remarks submitted August 14, 2007 have been fully considered, but found not persuasive.

4. Applicants' arguments as to "inherency" are untenable. It is noted that the limitation "said repression of weight gain or reduction in weight being independent of food intake" merely defines the biological function as how the method works, does not materially change the steps of the claimed method, i.e., administering (+)-Z-bisdehydrodoisynolic acid to a male animal. As discussed above, such functional feature would be an inherent property of the known method. There is no requirement that a person of ordinary skill in the art would have recognized the inherent disclosure at the time of invention, but only that the subject matter is in fact inherent in the prior art reference. Schering Corp. v. Geneva Pharm. Inc., 339 F.3d 1373, 1377, 67 USPQ2d 1664, 1668 (Fed. Cir. 2003).

5. This application contains claims 3-11 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in Paper filed December 26, 2006. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
